Philosophy

Our military life is made of moving often and holding onto lifelong friendships across hundreds of miles.

Sometimes it's freakin' tough to feel at home and find community at every new duty station.

But it shouldn't have to be, and that's why we're here.

We help adventurous military families find connection with one another and the wild places they call home by getting #outdoorsanywhere.

Our community thrives on the preservation of wild places, love for our own personal landscapes, and friendships that last beyond them.
